GIRLS ON THE RUN

My Story: How i found running, and myself

My story is a journey of self-discovery and growth. It begins with a young girl who loves to play and run. As she grows up, she finds herself in a world where she is often judged and misunderstood. But she knows who she is and what she wants. She starts running, not just for exercise, but for the freedom it gives her. Running becomes a part of her life, a way to express herself and find peace. Through running, she learns to overcome challenges and embrace her unique self. She realizes that she is not just a girl, but a woman with a story to tell. And she is proud to share it with the world.
